"Communicating Your Research: Demystifying the Editorial and Peer Review Processes at Nature Research Journals"

Talk Summary:
This is an interactive presentation/discussion in which Dr. Benedetti will introduce the aims, scope and workload of Nature Medicine, offer a few tips to authors regarding manuscript preparation, and break-down the behind-the-scenes decision making process at each step of manuscript consideration (from presubmission to publication). He hopes that this will function more as a roundtable discussion rather than a lecture. As such, questions and interruptions are encouraged.
